Thanks. I wont be disturbing will email all the time. I am sure Alex has proof of payment, he did on Saturday morning OFFLINE. I will ask him about this and if Mr Sufian checks his bank account he should find he has been credited by Alex McDowell. Alex he had understood the fee structure at the conference on Friday and feels it is okay. I could not hear very well. I also heard something taking several months, which I suppose Mr Sufian will explain to us when he gives us a conference.

I was awarded asylum in Ireland and my lawyer had advised to submit no evidence just answer questions and keep quiet. I mean the solicitor did a petition about what would happen if I was dumped on the streets of India. I followed instructions and the lawyers succeeded. I can follow instructions from you too. You wont be disturbed during the course of proceeding.

Its just that my Dad is going to be dead in 4 months if that is how long the first refusal takes. As such my Dad my already be dead, my sister is hiding him and wont inform. Well the only other thing is in case Mr Sufian does bring up these issues mental health and the Institute of Physics are important issues in the home office prejudice against me. I have told Alex what happened at IOP is not his fault and this case will never become public.

I PROMISE YOU WONT GET EMAILS FROM ME - JUST ABOUT THE TIME AND DATE OF THE CONFERENCE. YOU CAN SEND ALEX THE CONFERENCE SCHEDULE INSTEAD OF ME.

Dear Mohini,

I have now seen your proof of £1000 payment today, received with thanks.

That means total paid at this point, including your initial conference fee, and Alex's transfer (which I do not have visibility of but assuming it has gone through as you said) is £3250.

To confirm, regarding the discount (of the amount £250, for the initial conference which took place last Friday the 26th April 2024): The barrister has said that it will come off the second-tranche payment when that falls due in future, date to be decided.

So the outstanding balance on this job as set out in the Client Care letter which you kindly signed and returned this week, is £2750 which is not due at present.

Kind regards,

Mike Watts
